

Richland Freezes the Colts 6-2

Lamar Feb. 26, 2010. The Arlington Colts JV team was relegated to the loser's bracket of the Lamar tournament on a cold damp day by an opportunistic Richland team. The Rebels pounced in the first with three runs on three hits, taking full advantage of two Colts errors to plate three unearned runs off starter Matt Barber, and added three more in the second with another three hits. The Colts got on the board in the third with walks and steals by Austin McKinney and Kelsie Dancer, and an RBI single by Lawrence Brandt, who had one of two Colts hits, with shortstop Eddie Lozano having the other one. A miserable bottom of the fourth inning was forever expunged from the record books by the weird drop dead rule of the Lamar tournament, yielding a final score of 6-2.
